Our Water Journey
Water from Lake Michigan enters the intake crib at depths of 20 to 30 feet.

Water enters the purification plant's intake basin through a tunnel beneath the lake bed.
Building the Intake tunnels

Bricking up the tunnel arch.
James W. Jardine Water Purification Plant
Tunnel Boring Machine
12 foot Diameter Tunnel
12 foot Diameter Tunnel
Lexington Pumping Station
Lexington Pumping Station
Lexington Pumping Station
Lexington Pumping Station
90” Transmission Main Installation
Des Plaines River Crossing
90” Transmission Main Installation